IT IS A PROTEST.

Our friends on South Water remark that "it will now be in order for THE REVIEW to explain how it knows that the F. M. B. A. is an organization that protests against the hardships unjust legislation has thrust upon the farmers."

Why, we know it, first because there is such an organization. It is made up of places it is running an independent ticket of its own; in some places it will elect this independent ticket. To do this, many men who were formerly strong democrats and He at once re-entered the employ Thomas N. Leavitt on the "levee." republicans will have to vote away from their old parties.

This is certainly a protest against the some cases. It is enough for us that they lingham, musical director. old ties. Even though they run a candidate of their own, and now and then defeat the chances of some regular democrat, we shall not complain. Among the democrate in the new third party may be found many republicans. We are glad to see these last get away from the bloody shirt style of campaign literature. When they do this they will give public questions some unprejudiced study. The democratic party knows that it has nothing to lose in the long ran

While the republican farmers of the Northwest are in their third party movement they will learn that the bloody shirt is not a bit of sacred omnipotence, they will learn that you cant settle the questions of to-day by rehashing old stories of an old war. When they learn this much the republican party in this section of the country will go out of existence. When calm in-

B. A. is a protest againt past and present B. A. is a protest againt past and present legislation? Does some one think that republicans left their party just because they had no complaint to make? We are asked in this their December days. how we know certain things, just as if there was some great secret about the matter. Is not the protest just as plain as the sun at noonday? Farmers dont organize just for pastime. The F. M. A. is not a belles lettres society. Its aim is not to polish up its members in the use of rhetoric. And it is not a religious organization. If it is not a protest, what in the world is it?

And then read the various platforms the F. M. B. A. has made public. Can you reconcile their demands and strictures with the legislation that is now upon our statute books? Perhaps it is not necessary to state what party is responsible for this legisla-

The Rep asks, "is it possible that designing democrate in the order have clandestinely acquainted the editor of THE REVIEW with the secrets of the order?" We might much more pertinently ask, is it possible is there a man in the United States, outside the editor of The Rep, who has not long since known that the F. M. B. A. is a protest against present legislation? We desire to modestly remark that it is not necessary to carry such news clandestinely to THE REVIEW, whatever may be the case in other places. The people on West Prairie still insist upon a sufficient use of their senses to hear thunder and see lightning.

The Rep concludes as follows:

To "protest against upjust legislation" i to be a democrat without further ceremony and if a farmer joins the F. M. B. A. fe that purpose it would be equivalent to join-ing the democratic party. The democratic party has never ceased since 1860 to protest against unjust legislation.

This conclusion has some very plain language. It is hard to understand how a republican editor could write it. If "to protest against unjust legislation is to be a democrat without further ceremony," then it would be well for the body of the people to turn democrats at once. For let it be remembered that the beneficiaries of unjust logislation can be only a small minority, and even they for only a limited time. The Rep makes the, for it, startling statement that "the democratic party has never ceased since 1860 to protest against uniost legislation." It might add that the protest was soldom of any avail. We have what the farmers know to be unjust legislation, and now we have the assurance of The Rep that it was put upon the statute books against the protest of the democratic party. What more could we wish for?

A MR. JOHNSTONE of Chicago is doing seems wonderful but useless feats as a mind reder. Wednesday, he accomplished the feat at which Bishop lost his life in New York seems time ago. It left Johnstone in a terribly prostrated condition. When you can get a large slice of a man's mind by simply rubbing his hair the wrong way, it eems foolish to pursue another course in which you must brave death in order to get a little speck of it.

HOAR explained his vote for the recip rocity clause of the tariff bill by saying that he "regarded the amendment as a declaralegislative policy." We take it that Mr. attach the key of his cipher words to his speech? It may be marked as an "exhibit." According to the papers it is beginning to look pretty desperate for Joe Cannon in the Fifteenth District. The farmers over there are "getting onto him," and when they do Joe will cease to misrepresent an llinois constituency.

PERHAPS the prepublicans are holding back their county convention for a chance to indorse the democratic nominees.

Olled Up the Rigs, S. M. Lutz a few weeks ago employed big strong boy about 16 years old, to do his stable work. When this rainy spell set in the wagon and buggy were run in the barn to wait until the weather should get more tavorable for driving. Mr. Lutz said to the young man: "You come down to the store get some castor oil, and then grease the buggy and wagon, so that when the muup they will be in good run order to go out again. ning The man came down low and got a bottle holding almost a quart of castor oil. That night Mr. Lutz was in th barn and noticed something unusual about the wagon. It seemed very smooth and shiny, though hardly right either. "Here, he said to the boy, "what have you been doing with that oil?" "Been oiling the rigs," was the reply. "Did you oil them

Arthur E. Black and Frank Padgett, the Jacksonville bicyclists, arrived in the city yesterday. Black is the man who under the name of "F. C. Winslow, of Quincy," ran a race with Silas Long at the Trotting association's treck for a $50 purse. He was here with three friends, and after the race they started to Niagara Falls on their wheels. They got there all right, but coming back they didn't do so well. Magee's wheel played out entirely. He had already spent 330 for repairs on it during the trip, but en that was not enough to save it. It went to pieces and is now a total wreck. Magee and Davenport will go through on the cars this morning, having come all the way back by rail. Black and Padgett had better enccess un til they resched Danville. Then as the roads were muddy they took the railroad and went 15 miles over the ties. Black's wheel broke down at Fairmount, and they took the train there. The bleyels was repaired here last night, and Black and Padgett will continue on their wheels to-day. There has been some talk of another race between Long and Black for a purse of $100. Each one says he is willing, but the other is not, and both professes to believe that there will be no race, for that reason STRAY SCRAPS.
